Common sub-specialty services* offered:

Prostatic Diseases

This covers consultation and treatment of benign and malignant prostate diseases. Assessment may include ultrasound of the prostate, measurement of the urine flow rate and specialised blood tests. Surgery to the prostate may also be offered.

Sub-specialty services are not limited to those mentioned in this brochure. Please consult our Clinic for more information.*

EndoUrology and Urinary stone disease

We provide consultation and treatment of urinary stone disease through a wide range of treatment options. These include laser fragmentation of the stone via a tiny endoscope to remove the stones without the need for any surgical incisions, and percutaneous renal surgery, a minimally-invasive procedure. Patients who require extracorporeal shockwave lithotripsy (ESWL), a non-invasive method to treat stones, will be counselled accordingly and have it done off-site.

Kidney Stone Shock Wave Treatment

Uro-oncology

We see all forms of urogenital cancer, including prostate, bladder, kidney, testicular and penile cancer. This includes the assessment for cancer, and counselling and treatment of cancer. Depending on the severity and extent of the disease, surgery or medication may be offered. Patients who require radiation treatment will be referred to the radiation specialist to have it done off-site.

Erectile dysfunction

We assess and manage male patients who are experiencing erectile dysfunction and related sexual dysfunction symptoms.
